Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in St. Johnsbury was held Friday evening and the following officers elected:

Board of Directors, Byron S. Burt, chairman; Leman A. Ladd clerk; Laura W. Burt, treasurer; George P. Moore, Jessie Halley Carrick, Charles E. Peck.

Readers, George P. Moore, Harriet J. Moore.

Reading room committee, Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Ladd was elected to have charge of the Sunday school.

Church Notes.

The annual business meeting of the First Baptist church is to be held on Friday evening at 7:30. Reports will be received and new officers will be elected. Rev. C. R. B. Dodge will preach next Sunday morning on "Present Day Christian Values," and in the evening on "Looking Forward."

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Old Fellows' block, Sunday morning service at 10:45. Subject, "God." Sunday school following the morning service. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30. The reading room is open on Wednesday and Thursday from 2 to 5.

At Grace Methodist church next Sunday the sacrament of baptism will be administered and new members received in connection with the morning service. In the evening the choir will render a special musical program appropriate to the new year and the pastor will speak upon "The New Year as Seen by the Poets."

At the North church next Sunday evening Mr. Chapman will speak upon the topic, "What is Religion?"

The union service of the North and South churches, preparatory to the communion, will be held in the North church chapel this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30.

Sermons appropriate to the New Year will be preached both morning and evening at the P. E. Baptist church next Sunday. The annual business meeting of the church will be held this (Wednesday) evening. Reports will be given and officers elected for the coming year.

George L. Hunt assisted in the South church choir Sunday in the absence of E. C. Bingham.

At the Church of the Messiah next Sunday the pastor will preach on "A Proposition for the New Year."

The exercises at the North church last Sunday were appropriate to Christmas, special music being rendered at both morning and evening service and the pastor preaching a sermon to the children at the morning service. Miss Anna Mae Somerville, a member of the choir, came up from Boston to sing at these services and her singing was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. P. F. Hazen, so long a member of the choir, sang solos at both services. The chorus choir consisted of the following members: Miss Somerville, Mrs. Burroughs, Mrs. H. P. Balch, Mrs. Homer E. Smith, Mrs. P. F. Hazen, Mrs. William C. Tyler, Miss Mabel Woodside, William C. Tyler, P. F. Hazen, H. F. Balch, E. A. Silsby, James L. Miner, Robert P. Clark.

After the Wednesday evening service at Grace church chapel there will be a watch-night service at the parsonage. On Thursday evening, the ladies of the church invite all the congregation to a New Year's social at the chapel.

The Sailor Evangelist.

Evangelistic services will be held each evening this week in the Advent Christian church, beginning at 7:30. These services will be conducted by Rev. W. I. Israel, "the sailor evangelist." Mr. Israel is thoroughly posted upon the bible and history, and has a wonderful Christian experience, which, coupled with a sweetness of spirit, kindness of manner, tenderness of heart and simplicity and directness of speech give a combination of qualities seldom seen in a public speaker, and one that all admire. To be able to appreciate him, you must hear him for yourself. This you now have the opportunity of doing. All are kindly invited.

Christmas Tree Exercises.

The children of the Sunday school of the Church of the Messiah had a tree last week Tuesday evening and on Christmas night there was a tree at the First Baptist church. The annual Christmas tree service was held on Wednesday night at the North, South, Free Baptist, St. Andrew's, Methodist and St. Aloysius churches. At the latter church the following program was rendered:

A Recent Visitor's Opinion.

A recent visitor from West Virginia was so favorably impressed with this town and its social conditions that upon his return he contributed the following concerning it, to his local paper:

"It has a population of 8000 and is a manufacturing place, although there is an air of quietude about it that does not comport with one's idea of industrial activity. The Fairbanks Scale Company has the largest plant in operation there. It employs over 900 men and there is the friendliest relations between capital and labor there. If such a condition exists everywhere in the country as prevails there, we would never know what such a thing as a strike was.

The Fairbanks company never had a strike and it is a very old concern. There are men in its employ who have been working for it for 20 and 30 years. One man, whom I met, had been employed by the company for over 50 years.

The men make good wages and are well cared for. The company owns many houses and they are very convenient cottages that rent reasonably.

The men may rent from the company or they may rent from whoever they please. It makes no difference. Likewise, they may deal at the company's store or at some other store. They have absolute freedom to do as they please, so long as they do the work they are paid for. There is not a saloon in the town and you never see a drunken man on the streets. At night, only the watchmen at the various industries are up and about. And this in a town of 8,000 people! I was told, too, that such a thing as a burglary or a theft was rarely heard of and that street fights were of very infrequent occurrence. There is the best of order always, the schools are good and the churches numerous. I have visited many towns and cities, but I never saw a place just like St. Johnsbury, Vt., is."

Frank French at Barton.

Our local comedian was at Barton last week and made a hit as the following from the Monitor indicates:

The great attraction of the occasion to those who believe in a hearty laugh was the monologue by Frank O. French of St. Johnsbury. This was a series of recitations in the form of puns—a play upon words, and the secret of his success in convulsing his audience repeatedly with laughter was the termination of his sentences in the ludicrous and unexpected. His talks were in the chain-lightning style, so rapidly running from one word and sentence to another, both in his songs and recitations, that he held the closest attention, and sometimes the uproars of laughter by the people were such he had to make a pause in order to be heard at all. Each of his recitations was concluded with a comic song which was very gracefully and efficiently accompanied by Mrs. F. H. Pillsbury. Certainly Mr. French deserves the thanks of all who heard him for the manner by which he touched the risibilities of that saddest crowd last Tuesday evening, and he will be welcomed whenever he comes before a Barton audience.
